Elections Manager,

Greetings! My name is Joseph E. Wells II, and I am officially submitting my name as a candidate for the 2012 – 2014 NCTTA vice –presidency position.

It is my desire to continue assisting NCTTA with identifying and achieving its goals. I've seen this organization go from having Yau-Man Chan of the hit series Survivor shuttle athletes back and forth from the airport in San Jose, CA. to present day live streaming of matches.

For the past seven years a number of you have seen or gotten to know me at various competition in several capacities, whether it be competing or managing.

Since Oct. 2009 I have been working for Under Armour in the field of retail operations. The ASM is responsible for reactive sales, leading an effective sales team, hiring/firing, payroll management, and associate development and product knowledge.

These past 7 years serving in the capacity of Vice President of The National Collegiate Table Tennis Association has been very challenging and rewarding at the same time. I've been the lead contributor to securing equipment sponsorship for our league/championship. It is my intention that we continue to strengthen those partnerships. We have accomplished a number of first in a short period of time, our revenue has increased, we've built relationships with people and organizations outside the sport, and more importantly the number of teams and people participating have increased year over year. Our National Championships has grown in number and popularity with host cities and organization, and most recently we conducted our own singles/doubles competitions. Was it perfect no, but its things like that that make you want to return to continue your work. We are collective of unpaid and overworked volunteers, "so why do we do it"? It's simple, we love table tennis, I believe in college table tennis, and look forward to serving you the athlete. "Remember, you can never put points on the board until you get in the game".

Respectively,

Joseph E. Wells II
